RUSSIANS CAPTURE BIG NAVAL BASE OF RIGA

Latvian Capital Falls to Reds In 7-Mile Drive

Battle for Prewar Germany under Way

By W. W. HERCHER
LONDON, Saturday, Oct. 14 (P)—Russian shock troops captured the Latvian capital and big Nazi naval base of Riga yesterday, smashing seven miles through a strong maze of Axis defenses in a conquest which released hundreds of thousands of Soviet veterans for the battle of Germany itself.

At the same time Marshal Tito's headquarters in a special communique announced that Partisan forces had "penetrated to the walls of Belgrade," Yugoslav capital, capturing en route the village of Beli Potok, six miles southeast of the Balkans cross-roads city on the Danube.

Real Battle under Way
Berlin's high command indicated that the battle for prewar Germany already had begun with massed Soviet tank attacks on the East Prussian garrison at the port of Memel, and a large-scale Red army attack across the Narew river in Northern Poland on the lower side of East Prussia.

Moscow's communique was silent on the East Prussian drive, which is not unusual on the eve of major events, but there were unofficial reports that the Russians already had crossed from Lithuania into Memel, annexed by Germany in March, 1939, at three points, and had also fought their way into the streets of Memel city.

Long Battle at Memel
The Russians apparently have been fighting on the outskirts of Memel since Wednesday at least, because Berlin's communique declared the Memel garrison on that day had shot off forty-four Red army tanks.

Moscow likewise was silent on the operations across the rain-soaked Hungarian plains, but Berlin broadcasts told of a swirling battle by hundreds of tanks near Keskemet, a rich provincial city famed for its apricot brandy forty-five miles southeast of Budapest.

Moscow dispatches said the Russians to the northeast were within fifteen miles of cutting the Budapest-Miskolc-Ungvar railway, the supply backbone for Hungarian and Nazi troops fighting to hold their Carpathian mountain positions along the Czechoslovakian border on the northern side of Hungary.

These troops were increasingly imperiled in the rear by the Soviet surge toward Budapest, and may have to abandon their positions hurriedly in an axis retreat similar to that under way now in Transylvania to the south.

An Algiers radio broadcast said that Russian and attached Czechoslovak troops threatening Hungary on the north already had cleared all the mountain passes between the Poland and Slovakia, and the Czechoslovak press bureau announced in London last night that Czechoslovak officials already had entered the country in the wake of troops fighting their way through the Dukla pass into their homeland.

Frankish Nemes, minister of reconstruction in the London exile regime, and Gen. Rudolf Viet, his deputy and commander of free Czechoslovak forces, had entered the country, the bureau said.

Premier-Marshall Joseph Stalin announced the fall of long-besieged Riga.

Tugwell Using Puerto Rico To Test Totalitarianism for U. S.—Charge

MURRAY, Utah, Oct. 13 (P)—Rep. Henry C. Dworshak (R-Iowa) asserted tonight that Puerto Rico "has been made for this plot" of totalitarianism for a "pilot plant" of totalitarianism for the country under the administration of Governor Rex Tugwell.

Charges Roosevelt Lied Nation into European Conflict

CHICAGO, Oct. 13 (P)—Rep. Clare Boothe Luce (R-Conn.) asserted tonight President Roosevelt is "not only untrustworthy but also incompetent" in the field of statecraft.

The congresswoman, in an address prepared for delivery at a Republican-sponsored meeting in Orchestra hall and distributed in advance to the press by Western Republican Headquarters, set forth:

"Shall we trust the making of a new peace to the tired and shaking hands of a man who could not keep the one he inherited when he was young and strong?"

German Troops Evacuate Athens; Piraeus Also Reported Freed

By NOLAN NORGARD
ROME, Oct. 13 (P)—Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson, Allied commander in the Mediterranean, told the Greek people in a broadcast tonight that "your day of liberation is at hand," and the Allied-controlled Rome radio declared German troops had evacuated the capital city of Athens.

Unofficial reports said the Greek flag was flying over the acropolis.

Furious Battle In Progress for City of Bologna

By LYNN HEINZLERING

ROME, Oct. 13 (P)—German troops before Bologna, like their predecessors at Cassino, came up out of their foxholes today after enduring what the Fifteenth air force described as the "greatest aerial assault of the war on a single target area," and rejoined the furious struggle for the final hills before the Po valley metropolis.

There was little doubt that yesterday's tremendous strike by hundreds of American heavy and medium bombers inflicted serious damage on Nazi installations, yet today's Allied communique reported heavy fighting in progress with "no material advances" around the embattled highway center of Livorno ten miles south of Bologna.

East and west of the Florence-Bologna highway the Americans captured several more hills, while the British Eighth Army near the Adriatic moved up highway nine to a point about three miles north-west of Savignano.

Livorno, to which the Germans have clung with grim tenacity for several days, is partly outflanked by American infantry moving through the hills on either side.

Mount Delle Formiche, two and a half miles east of Livorno, was captured yesterday. Other doughboys moving forward west of the highway seized Monterotondo, overlooking a subsidiary road to Bologna. American troops have taken over 300 prisoners in recent fighting.

"Dirtiest ever conceived by the human mind"
Fagan stated, Dworshak went on, "that for thirty years there have been two opposing political parties in Puerto Rico, but that today these two parties are united in opposing the dictatorship of Tugwell, (secretary of interior) Lokes and the New Deal."

Dworshak said he spoke in reply to a prepared address in Salt Lake City by Lokes, who he said, "typifies the New Deal philosophy of an arrogant bureaucracy dominating the lives of the people and directing federal affairs with almost complete disregard for constitutional procedure."

Bricker To Tell About Washington

By E. E. EASTERLY

ENROUTE WITH BRICKER, Oct. 14 (P)—Gov. John W. Bricker, special train loaded through Southern Oregon today while the Republican vice-presidential nominee stacked oratorical ammunition for the greatest venture of his western campaign—the invasion of California.

Only three brief platform speeches—at Roseburg, Grants Pass and Medford—were on the day's program. The rest of the time the Ohio Governor spent on the draft of another major address, to be given tomorrow night at San Francisco.

The San Francisco speech to be broadcast at 8:30 p. m. Pacific time will come over a Mutual Pacific coast network, will inaugurate a six-day drive for California's prize block of twenty-five electoral votes.

Earlier tomorrow, Bricker will speak at Sacramento, Martinez, Richmond, Berkeley and Oakland. Nearing the end of the second week of this four-week, 9,250-mile tour, Bricker indicated he was just beginning to hit his stride, and that his heaviest attacks on the Democratic administration were yet to come.

"There are a lot of things going on at Washington that are pretty shady," he said at Eugene, Ore., last night, "and I intend to talk about them."

Bricker also said that Attorney General Francis Biddle would be singled out for special attention.

Now Reports 77 Jap Ships Sunk Or Hit in Raids

119 Enemy Planes Lost or Damaged

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (P)—A large force of B-29 Superfortresses attacked Japanese military targets on the island of Formosa today, the War Department announced.

General H. H. Arnold, commanding general of the Twentieth air force, issued the announcement, through the War Department, saying a detailed communique covering this operation would be issued as soon as sufficient details are available.

UNITED STATES PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, PEARL HARBOR, Oct. 13 (P)—Revising figures upward, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported tonight seventy-seven Japanese ships, including four small submarines and more than fifty small craft, were sunk or damaged off the Ryukyu islands Monday and 119 planes were destroyed or damaged.

Nimitz's first report on the strike at the Ryukyus, which reach within 200 miles of Japan, listed thirty-eight ships sunk or damaged as well as more than twenty jugs. The total for planes was given as eighty-nine.

American Losses Light
The American forces lost eight planes and five pilots and three crewmen, in combat.

Tonight's communique also disclosed ten to fifteen Japanese planes were destroyed in the carrier raid on Luzon in the Philippines Tuesday.

Nimitz announced the Luzon strike last night but gave no details. In the Luzon attack the Japanese surprised offered no airborne opposition, the communique said. The handful of enemy planes destroyed were on the ground.

Many Buildings Hit
The American attack apparently was centered around Aparri on the northern coast where many buildings were set afire.

In the Ryukyu assault the bombers "devastated Oho Yama island, in Naha harbor at Okinawa island. Naha is the largest city in Ryukyu, with a population of 60,000."

Two lighthouses, three hangars and one factory, many barracks, buildings, warehouses, three fuel dumps and one ammunition dump were destroyed.

The revised Ryukyu box score shows forty-six ships and forty-one small craft were sunk; eleven ships and nine small craft were probably sunk; twenty ships and numerous sampans, jugs and barges were damaged; eighty-two aircraft were destroyed and thirty-seven damaged.

The revised figures showed: Revised Report
Sunk—One destroyer escort; four small submarines; fourteen cargo ships; one submarine tender; one oiler; twenty-five small ships; probably sunk: ten small ships; one minesweeper.

Damaged: eight cargo ships; one medium landing ship; one light cruiser; ten small ships; aircraft: destroyed on the ground—fifty-nine; damaged on ground—thirty-seven.

Announcing that American losses "were comparatively light—eight planes in combat" the communique pointed it in the overseas theater.

Operational losses due to typhoon conditions which make carrier plane duty hazardous.

The previous Ryukyu communique said only "there was no damage" (Continued on Page 11, Col. 6)

Ann Sheridan Wants To Fight Those Who Say She Dogged It in G. I. Show

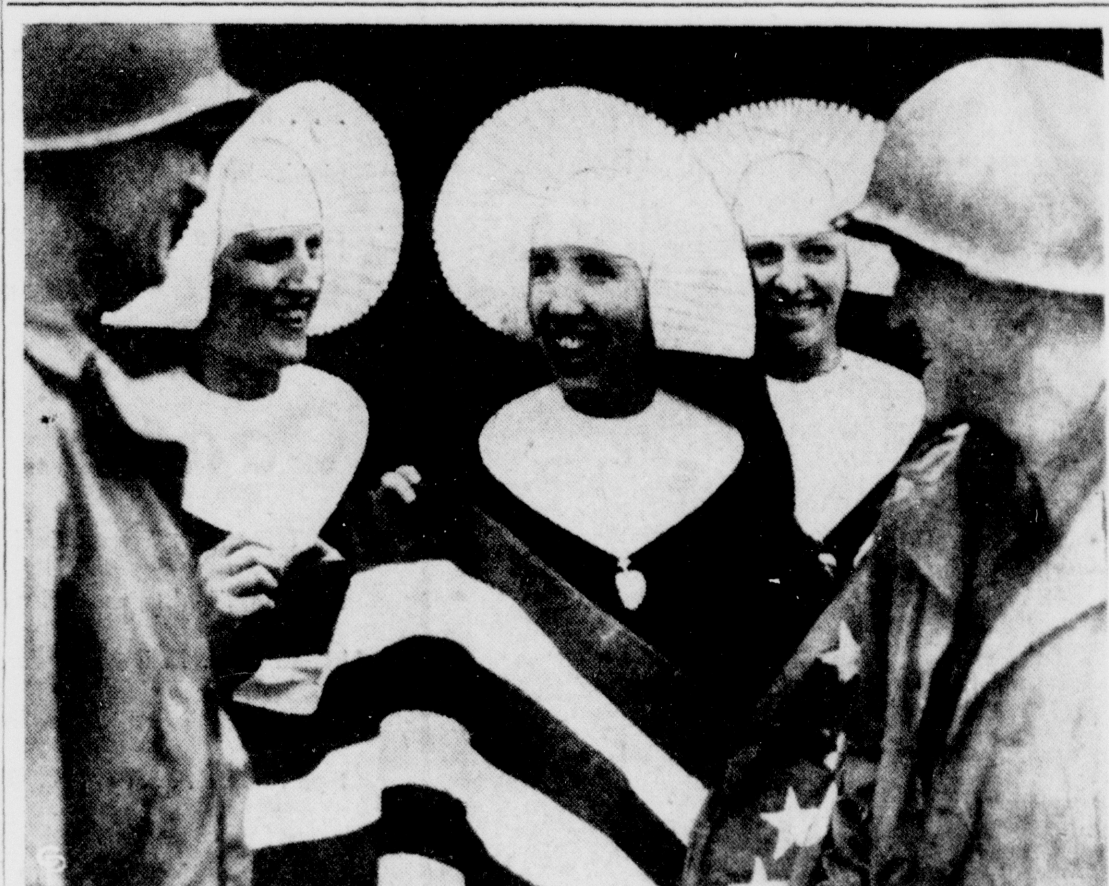

NEW YORK, Oct. 13 (P)—Ann Sheridan said today she was ready to "fight boy fashion, no holds barred, with anybody who thinks I, or any of the gang I accompanied, entertained him in the C-B-I theater."

Replying to criticism of herself and other stars in the C-B-I Roundup, army publication for the China-Burma-India theater, as quoted by the Chicago Tribune, Miss Sheridan added in a statement released here by her studio, Warner Brothers:

"I traveled 60,000 miles in a few days less than sixty. And we tried to play two shows a day of one and one-half hours long. We traveled under army auspices, and that goes for routine jokes, songs and the way you brush your teeth."

Miss Sheridan's statement, signed "G. I. Annie," was in the form of an open letter to the C-B-I Roundup's editor. It continued:

"Hannegan's Shennanigans" Brownell Scotches New Dealer's Charge of GOP Whispering Attack

NEW YORK, Oct. 13 (P)—Democratic National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan said today that "the opposition" was conducting "a whispering campaign" about President Roosevelt's health— "a state of health," he said, "which is not a secret."

Hannegan, who visited President Roosevelt recently, said he found him "very vigorous, the picture of health."

In Washington, McIntyre said today that the president is in good shape, no colds or anything.

The only announced address for the president is that before the Foreign Policy Association in New York on Oct. 21. President Roosevelt said at his press conference in Washington today that he and his campaign advisers were talking about future speech-making plans, but nothing definite had been decided. He said any decisions probably would be announced locally or by the national committee in New York.

The president would not say whether he considered in the political classification his scheduled Foreign Policy Association speech.

GOP Gains in Pennsylvania
Brownell, just returned from Pittsburgh, said he was "confident the Republicans will carry Pennsylvania."

Registration in twelve Central and Western Pennsylvania counties indicated the Democratic enrollment had dropped substantially and that Republicans were maintaining their registration levels, Brownell said.

Also speaking optimistically of Republican chances in Illinois was New York, Brownell declared.

"We have word that Democratic leaders in Chicago, as in New York, are sending urgent pleas to the president's personal physician, as saying 'the president's health is perfectly okay.'"

"Apparently there is a whispering campaign going on and being intensified about the president's health," Hannegan said.

Asked who was conducting the campaign, Hannegan replied: "The people who don't want Roosevelt—the opposition."

Hannegan was asked whether he had the Republicans in mind.

"They are the people who don't want Roosevelt," he answered, but said his statement about "the opposition" should stand.

Dewey To Urge More Honestly In Government

By JACK BILL

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 13 (P)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said tonight his campaign address Monday night in St. Louis, Mo., would concern "the urgent need for honesty and competence in our national government."

A spokesman from Dewey's office said the Republican presidential nominee probably also would discuss support President Roosevelt reportedly was receiving for a fourth term from big-city political groups.

The speech, to be made in St. Louis convention hall, will be broadcast over two national networks (NBC and Blue) from 9 to 9:30 p. m. CWT. The Blue network will rebroadcast the speech over its eastern and midwest stations from 12:30 to 1 p. m. EWT, the following day, and over its Pacific coast stations from 6:15 to 6:45 a. m. PWT, Oct. 18.

More Confidence Needed
The New York governor has contended in other speeches that the "peace-time problem" of this country would face required "a degree of competence never displayed by this (the Roosevelt) administration."

Dewey's Missouri trip will carry his campaign into the hometown of Robert E. Hannegan, Democratic national chairman, and into a state which twice has elected to the United States Senate Harry S. Truman.

Also speaking optimistically of Republican chances in Illinois was New York, Brownell declared.

"We have word that Democratic leaders in Chicago, as in New York, are sending urgent pleas to the president's personal physician, as saying 'the president's health is perfectly okay.'"

Germans Lose 84 Tanks, 30 Planes

By HOWARD COWAN

LONDON, Saturday, Oct. 14 (P)—American doughboys with flame-throwers, grenades and tommyguns carried the battle of Aachen into the debris littered streets of the dead city itself today after forty-eight hours of bitter air and armored combat which cost the Germans eighty-four tanks and thirty fighter planes.

Infantrymen broke into the bomb-ravaged city from the east and south behind another terrifying dive-bombing attack of American Thunderbolts and Lightnings, which have dropped 1,600 loads of explosives in two days onto the ruins of the first German city ringed by an invader since the days of Napoleon.

64 German Tanks Wrecked
Sixty-four tanks were blown apart by the withering curtain of bomb and shell fire draped about a German panzer column which attempted to force through a half-mile wide gap northeast of Aachen, but was smashed to pieces three miles away.

Twenty other tanks were destroyed Thursday night south of Eschweiler, eight miles southeast of Aachen.

The Berlin radio claimed that 5,000 Americans had been slain and 14,000 wounded or taken prisoner in the mighty battle for the fortress which refused a surrender ultimatum, but front line reports from Allied sources said Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First army had suffered only light casualties and that resistance was collapsing under the assault.

German Tanks In Action
One German tank division was being rushed down from the northern end of the 400-mile western front at Aachen to join the battle for Aachen, which the German radio said had been all but flattened "by an unprecedented steamroller of fire."

Even as the ancient city of Charlemagne entered its dying hours, the whole British Second army and American First army front at the western gates of Germany showed signs of imminent eruption.

Mid-way between Aachen and Ahrhain, the British Second army, paced by American tanks, hammered out a gain of more than a mile beyond the captured Dutch town of Overloon on a front of nearly four miles, near Venray, three miles southeast of Overloon, and were operating six miles from the Maas river, which faces the German frontier.

Report Limited Gains
The Allied communique announced limited gains had been made eleven miles east of Aachen from positions four miles beyond Stolberg, indicating that the drive on the Rhine may be about ready to resume. Slow and steady progress was made in Hurlen forest south-east of Aachen.

Both Allied and Axis sources referred to activity in the Gellenkirchen area twelve miles north of Aachen. A German military commentator said the American troops had been concentrated there "possibly for a grand-scale assault" on the flat lands to the Rhine.

The Canadians along the sea clearing out the Scheldt estuary approached to the port of Antwerp gouged out gains in bitter fighting on the estuary's south banks.

Nazis Glad To Quit
The first American units found the Germans willing enough to surrender. In their first batch was a lieutenant who received the American ultimatum to surrender earlier this week.

Some civilians who came out of the ruins said German officers forced them to leave the city. It was estimated that no more than 10,000 civilians remained.

Early Capitulation of Hungary Looms as Russian Tanks Advance

By WADE WERNER

LONDON, Oct. 13 (P)—Early capitulation of Hungary was awaited tonight as Russian tanks battered their way toward Budapest and reports from neutral sources told of mounting panic and confusion in that capital.

In Moscow, the official newspaper Izvestia surmised that "the whole country is going to blow up at any moment."

Ankara and Stockholm dispatches said the Hungarian cabinet was meeting tonight to decide finally on the situation. The government-controlled press and radio poured out admonishments against panic.

A "National Committee of Hungarian Members of Parliament," representing a fusion of former right wing political groups, held the first meeting last night in Budapest with the avowed aim of "consolidating all national forces for the defense of the Hungarian people."

meeting already had decided to begin evacuating Budapest tomorrow. Other reports told of thousands now fleeing the city, and of looting and rioting in some quarters. Censored news from Budapest itself screened, but did not hide, the seriousness of the situation. The government-controlled press and radio poured out admonishments against panic.

Senator Pepper Slanders Dewey

NO GROSSER SLANDER ever was uttered than that by Senator Claude Pepper, Democrat, of Florida, in an address this week in New York city when he declared that "the governor of New York is now, as he ever has been at heart, an ardent isolationist."

His aim and object is not world peace and security, but the presidency, behind the power of which he and his crowd proposed to exploit for profit the resources, the labor and the hopes of the people of the United States and of other countries.

Why Senator Pepper should utter such falsities and why he should expose it is of benefit to the fourth-term campaign is a mystery of the first degree. Certainly Governor Dewey made his position clear as crystal as to world collaboration for peace in his explicit address on the subject at Louisville September 8 in the expressed objectives of which no rational Democrat has seen fit to find fault. Certainly the Pepper assertions fly in the face of truth respecting the efforts of Governor Dewey to collaborate with Secretary Hull for a world peace organization on a bipartisan basis.

But Governor Dewey's speeches everywhere, although taking up other subjects for analysis, always contain some references and assurances about his strong and earnest desire to work with the nations of the world to attain world peace security.

Perhaps one of the strongest assertions against isolationism among the many made by Governor Dewey was in his Louisville speech, in which he made it specific:

"We know that we cannot make good that resolve" (not to suffer a third world war), he said then, "by any effort to withdraw or isolate ourselves from the rest of the world. Our problem is not how to stay out of a future war, our problem is to prevent a future war before it happens, instead of getting into it after it happens."

But also in his speech of acceptance at Chicago he made this plain:

"We are agreed, all of us," he declared, "that America will participate with other sovereign nations in a co-operative effort to prevent future wars. Let us face up boldly to the magnitude of that task. We shall not make secure the peace of the world by mere words. . . . The structure of peace must be built. A few more quotations taken at random from other recent addresses also emphasize Governor Dewey's position as to isolationism, as follows:

"We must not sink into the abyss of power politics. We must rise to a new high level of co-operation and joint effort among respected and sovereign nations to work for and to preserve the peace of the world through all the years to come, based on freedom, equality and justice."

"Statement on postwar peace proposals, August 16."

"We must build a just and lasting peace." Address at Seattle, September 18.

"We want, most of all, a peace which all freedom-loving peoples of the world have had a part in creating, a peace they have labored for, and believe in, a peace they will be willing to sacrifice and work for in all the years to come."

"We must learn to work in peace as we have worked together in war." Address at San Francisco, September 21.

"Everywhere people knew and approved of the joint efforts of Secretary Hull and myself to establish permanent world organization to maintain lasting peace." Speech at Los Angeles, September 22.

"The winning of this war and the achievement of a people's peace are too sacred to be cast off with careless language." Speech at Oklahoma City, September 25.

"We are pledged to work with all our hearts and souls to bring about a lasting peace through international organization with adequate force to back up such action at Charleston, W. Va., October 7."

ing threats and the participating nations would have ample opportunity to conform "with constitutional processes. As for the aggression it would be only those suddenly and unexpectedly taken, as, for instance, those taken by Germany in invading Poland and Russia, which would call for swift action. If in the case of a minor border incident, for example, perhaps limited delegation of power could be utilized, in a major situation, as for example, should one of the big powers suddenly go berserk, congressional action would be essential. That is a risk respecting delay which probably cannot be avoided.

Another New World Record

THE UNITED STATES this year has established a new world record—but one which the American people can hardly raise a cheer about. Total tax revenues for 1944 in this country have gone beyond the $55,000,000,000 mark. There is nothing on the record anywhere in history that meets this figure—and still the federal deficit this year will amount to $50,000,000,000.

There will be those who will attempt to gloss over the fact that total taxation has risen 800 per cent since 1932 by pinning all blame upon war expenditures. Of course, war expenditures are heavy, but this is not the complete answer.

Total taxation in the United States in 1932—including federal, state and local—was $9,424,000,000. During the peacetime years from 1932 to 1941 that figure was virtually doubled to $18,496,000,000. The federal government's revenue rise of 313 per cent in those years accounted for practically the entire increase.

By 1941, the federal government was taking an unprecedented forty-seven per cent of all tax revenues in the country. This year, 1944, the federal tax will be eighty-two per cent of all collections. The states' share will be nine per cent, cities of more than 25,000 population, four per cent; counties, two per cent, and other taxing units, three per cent.

What the average citizen has not yet realized sufficiently is that all of this tax money is not going for services—that a large percentage of his money is going to meet charges on the tremendous debt that has been contracted.

The United States Bureau of Census report in September, 1942, said that "if debt retirement were added to interest, the total debt service took nearly eleven cents out of every governmental dollar."

That was at a time when the federal debt was still under $50,000,000,000. Today it is more than $210,000,000,000. What it means simply is that the interest and debt service is beginning to take far more than eleven cents out of every dollar. And it is something to think about when it is realized that in the post-war period the heaviest item in federal government expenditures will be that of debt service.

There is only one solution of the problem of returning war veterans, says the Baltimore Sun, this being the least-raking kind, either.

Bulls, according to a Factograph item, are not excited by a red cloth. This is another of those facts that we are willing to accept rather than try to disprove.

Postwar automobiles will be much the same as those last produced. After all, they have stood up rather well since Pearl Harbor.

The Common Man

By MARSHALL MASLIN
Did you ever know a Common Man?

I never did.

All my life I've known the phrase "I've heard speakers say: 'Now, the common man.' I've read in many a solemn book that the Common Man does this or that or the Common Man likes that. . . . I've heard him praised and damned. He is flattered and kicked.

Doctors treat him, lawyers take his cases, merchants sell to him, advertisers cater to him, plays are written for him, Hollywood makes pictures for him, politicians seek his vote.

But I've never seen him or talked to him, and I wouldn't know where to find him. Would you?

Look among your friends and acquaintances. Think of the proudest and the humblest, the highest and the lowest, the most eager and the most sluggish. . . . Is any one of them the Common Man?

The Common Man, I assume, is rather stupid. He has few ideas and is easily swayed. He isn't good, nor bad. He is raw material and doesn't think but he does feel fiercely. He's fairly satisfied with his lot in life, and his prejudices are so much a part of him that he doesn't even know he has them; he thinks they are principles. He can be a boob and he can be a hero, but you can't tell him apart from a hundred million other human beings who are also Common Men.

Vital Question on World Peace League Can Be Easily Answered, Lawrence Says

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13—Senator Ball, of Minnesota, has posed three questions to both presidential candidates on the subject of a world security organization. Fortunately the three questions are so worded that they can all be answered in the affirmative by both Governor Dewey and President Roosevelt.

The first question, which asks whether the candidates will support "the earliest possible formation of the United Nations league going into and United States entry therein before any final peace settlements are made either in Europe or Asia," is an easy one. The mere fact that Governor Dewey and President Roosevelt endorse the processes already in operation to get the world security league going is an indication that neither nominee will have any difficulty saying "yes."

As for the second question—whether the candidate, if elected, would oppose any reservations which would weaken the power of the organization to act to maintain the peace—here, too, both nominees can say "yes," because reservations of that nature are not being offered now by anybody of power or influence in either party and usually when a reservation is offered, its sponsor insists it will not weaken but will strengthen the instrument. So an affirmative answer is easy here, too.

Less Simple Question
Now as to the third, the matter is not so simple but again both nominees can answer in the affirmative. The question is whether "the vote of the United States representative on the United Nations' security council should commit an agreed upon quota of our military forces to action ordered by the council to maintain peace without requiring further congressional approval."

Certainly the vote of the American representative will never be cast except in pursuance to an instruction by the president and the Congress. Once the American representative is ordered to vote, there will be no need for further congressional approval. A better way to phrase that question would have been to ask whether the vote of the American representative should be cast without further approval by Congress once both houses have agreed or the machinery and process whereby the American representative shall act. For plainly no one man sitting in any world organization can have power to commit us to the use of force. That is a power which Congress alone can delegate to the executive and the executive can in turn delegate to the American ambassador or representative who carries out those instructions.

Joint Resolution Sought
What the public has not known officially until the last twenty-four hours, though it has been outlined in these dispatches before, is that a joint resolution is to be sought which would require approval by both houses of Congress. In this resolution, which is planned to be adopted either concurrently with the ratification of the treaty relating to American entry into the new league or immediately thereafter, a program for the handling of the vote of the American representative in the new league to be stipulated as the law of the land.

Senator Austin, of Vermont, of the Republican party, and Senator Connally, of Texas, Democrat, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, have just made it known that such a resolution is expected to be passed. It will require much care in the wording of resolution so as to make it conform to the constitutional requirement that Congress alone may authorize the use of our armed forces in any conflict equivalent to a war between nations.

Familiar to Dewey
But it is to be assumed that Governor Dewey, though John Foster Dulles, is thoroughly familiar with that plan for a joint resolution, and all he needs to do now is to say that he favors such congressional action. Obviously nobody can commit any future Congress which may want to amend or repeal that resolution but Governor Dewey favors the enabling resolution or else there would have been some dissent expressed by Mr. Dulles long before this, and all the word that has come is one of green leaders like Senator Austin and Senator Vandenberg.

Mr. Dewey can answer all three questions in the affirmative and yet Congress can undo all three. The questions which Senator Ball propounds ought better be addressed to members of the House and Senate who are running for office. The future president can do much to influence them out the primary responsibility for anything requiring congressional action rests with Congress.

Pettengill Yearns For Free Society Jefferson Liked

By SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

Wouldn't it be grand if there were some state left—Colorado say, or Texas, —to which old-fashioned Americans could emigrate, as our pioneer fathers did in covered-wagon days? A state where elbow grease is honored and sweat earns its own reward, one where monuments are still erected to men who treat Federal busbodies as Ethan Allen did with his "great beach seal"; a state where a man can plow to suit himself; a state where a man does not have to join a union in order to eat, but can if he wants to; one that has a legislature of its own to write laws consensual to the people directly involved; a state whose wealth is not drained off in taxes to buy votes and voters in distant provinces; a state where industry and farming live hand in hand, where men believe that wealth comes from work and not from the bureau of engraving; a state free from the rigors of vast pressure groups fighting to despoil each other; where the constitution says no one can hold office for life; where "out of debt" is a badge of honor; where the fear of crackdowns by government does not hang like a black cloud over the land; a state where freemen despise the sycophants of refugee royalty; a state where men grow tall.

As Jefferson Said
I am not suggesting secession or anything. All I hope for is the old American doctrine of "states rights," home rule, and a free society that will "prevent men from injuring one another, but leave them otherwise free to follow their own pursuits of industry and employment." Jefferson said that and it still suits me to a T.

I wouldn't swap Tom Jefferson for all the Hillmans, Broaders, Berles, Frankfurters, Perkinses, Topkineses, Tugwells, Wallaces, dogooders, pay rollers, social welfarers, uplifters, and bleeding hearts in the United States, Britain, Rus-

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Music Certificate Will Be Presented Tuesday

Miss Pearl Garbrick Will Accept Award for Fort Hill Band

The Music War Council of America certificate awarded to the Fort Hill high school band and orchestra will be presented to Miss Pearl G. Garbrick, director, at a special ceremony Tuesday evening, by United States Senator Millard E. Tydings. The presentation will be made at 8 o'clock in the Fort Hill auditorium following a short concert by the band.

Besides the certificate, individual wallet-size citation cards, identical to the certificate but with the names of the individual members inscribed on each instead of the school, will be presented to the seventy-five members of the organization.

The citation arrived here last June after the close of school accompanied by a letter from Edward C. Fischer, executive secretary, of the Music War Council of America. Fischer, in his letter, congratulated the Fort Hill band and orchestra for having qualified for the citation.

"The citation is awarded in recognition of their distinguished service in support of the war effort through their special wartime musical activities," Fischer wrote, "which have included send-off concerts at the departure of selectees for training camps, programs honoring men in the armed service and similar patriotic activity. Your band and orchestra are among the first 250 musical organizations in the country to be so honored."

According to the Music Educators Journal, a national magazine, Fort Hill was the first award to be made in Maryland and the only other one now in the state has been presented to Martin Military school, Baltimore.

Miss Garbrick invites the students of the other high schools and the general public to attend the ceremony.

FDR Gains in Six Southern States, Survey Reveals

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 13 — In Institute balloting throughout the 13 states of the South, President Roosevelt has gained in popularity in six states since the latter part of September, while Thomas E. Dewey has gained slightly in one, and the other six show no change.

With the president holding a pronounced lead in virtually all areas south of the Mason-Dixon line, Republican hopes of "cracking" the Solid South do not appear much better this year than in years gone by, except in the case of Oklahoma. The balloting indicates a Democratic lead in that state, but the margin is slight, the Roosevelt percentage in Oklahoma being only 51 percent, to 49 percent for Governor Dewey. In Kentucky, also, the division of sentiment as reflected in the poll is closer than in other parts of the South, with the president polling 55 percent, to 45 percent for Dewey.

Includes only Civilians
The following table shows the results of the latest balloting in the South. Percentages apply to civilian votes only, not including the men and women in the armed forces. The column to the right shows the change in Roosevelt's percentage since the last Institute report published Sept. 24.

KEEPS PROMISE

WHEN Ernest E. Juller, storekeeper first class, of Dunbar, W. Va., enlisted in the United States Coast Guard, he promised his dad that he would participate in more battles than "the old man" did in World War I. The elder Juller rolled up a score of five in the last war, and his son kept his promise, when he fought in the assault upon the Palau Islands to run his total to six invasions. United States Coast Guard photo.

Republicans were to succeed in swinging Oklahoma with its ten electoral votes into the G. O. P. column, the Democrats would still have a very comfortable backlog of Southern electoral votes. There is a possibility, however, that the twenty-three electoral votes of Texas may be cast for some other Democrat than Roosevelt, as a result of an anti-Roosevelt political movement in the state.

36 States Reported
In addition to today's report on the thirteen Southern states, the Institute has released latest figures in twenty-three other states, making thirty-six in all.

In these thirty-six states, Roosevelt was found leading in nineteen having a total of 196 electoral votes. Dewey was found ahead in fifteen states with 157 electoral votes, and two states, with twenty-one electoral votes, were found "on the line," each candidate polling fifty per cent of the vote.

WALTER L. PIERCE HONORED AT DINNER

Nearly sixty persons attended a dinner at the All Ghan Shrine country club Thursday at 6:30 p. m. in honor of Walter L. Pierce, manager of the Cumberland district of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, who is celebrating the thirtieth anniversary of his service with the company.

The guest speaker was Nicholas Trianola, New York city, agency supervisor, who described Pierce's work with the company during the past thirty years. Charles R. Keyser, representing the staff of the district office, presented Pierce with a gold fountain pen, engraved with his name. Raymond Hewitt acted as toastmaster.

The decorations were carried out in blue and gold, the Metropolitan colors, supplemented with autumn flowers. Group singing was directed by Perry Rosegarkie at the piano. The committee in charge of arrangements included D. Russell Bortz, Keyser and Hewitt.

Pierce entered the service of the company in 1914 at Danville, Va. Less than a year later he became deputy superintendent of the Danville district, and after three years he was appointed superintendent of the Staunton, Va., district. He has served in his present position since August, 1924.

The total area burned over each year by forest fires in the United States is about as large as New York state.

The Boulder reservoir in Arizona and Nevada, 115 miles long, has a capacity of 30,500,000 acre-feet.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP) — Automobile license plates, dog tags and other metal licenses have been restored to a prewar production basis by the War Production Board through revocation of three orders restricting their manufacture.

The sealed beam headlight lamps of the automobile serve as landing lights for the plane at war.

Swanton Soldier Loses His Life On Peleliu

Capt. Earl Fitzwater Was Killed in Action on September 16

By GEORGE H. HANST

OAKLAND, Oct. 13—Capt. Earl Wayne Fitzwater, United States Marine Corps, was killed in action in the performance of his duty and service of his country at Peleliu Island, Palau Islands, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Fitzwater of Swanton, have been informed officially in a telegram from the War Department. The message was received by the parents just a few days ago. The action occurred September 16.

Capt. Fitzwater, 27, was commissioned a second lieutenant at Quantico, Va., in May, 1941, when he was graduated from an officers' candidate school, and was one of a group of officers who were to remain on active duty with the marine corps during the period of the emergency. This was several months before the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Prior to entering the marine corps reserve, he attended the University of Maryland, graduating with a Bachelor of Science degree in June, 1939. He was a graduate of Oakland high school in 1932 and in his four years here was considered an outstanding student in the vocational agriculture department. He won the State-wide FFA public speaking contest.

Capt. Fitzwater's widow and young son live in St. Albans, N. Y. He sailed for the South Pacific area just a few weeks after the child was born, last June.

Also surviving are four sisters and one brother, Ruth Fitzwater, Ashland, Va.; Lorena Fitzwater, Washington, D. C.; Evelyn Fitzwater, Beulah Fitzwater and William Fitzwater, Jr., at home.

Other Casualties
Other casualties this week included the following: S-Sgt. Randall O. Martin was seriously wounded in action in Germany September 22. He is a son of Carl A. Martin, Oakland.

Pfc. Josie F. Teets was slightly wounded in Holland while in action September 16, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Josie F. Teets, of Deer Park, have been informed by the War Department. Pfc. Teets is now in a hospital in England.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Durst, Swanton, have been advised by the War Department that their son, Pfc. Howard R. Durst, had been slightly wounded in action in Italy September 13.

Mrs. Mabel Brock, Mt. Lake Park, has been informed that her son, Pvt. Alvin C. Brock, who was wounded September 9, while in action with an infantry anti-tank unit in France, returned to duty September 17.

Seven Men Called
Seven men who have been accepted for general military service have been ordered to report to the local selective service board on Sunday night, October 22, to entrain for the induction station at Baltimore. They are Snowden Russell Lewis, Hutton; Lawrence Calvin Harvey, Gorman; Ralph Johnson, Crellin; William Andrew Oester, Mt. Lake Park; Charles Junior Hook, Friendsville; Paul Lummis Yommer, Grantsville; Carl Lester Callis, Mt. Lake Park.

Cost of Public Assistance
Expenditures for five special types of public assistance in Garrett county for September amounted to $14,832.39, according to figures released by Francis Connolly, acting executive secretary of the Garrett County Welfare Board. The total did not include expenses of administration.

The figures showed that the largest amount, $7,473.42, was devoted to 328 individual cases for old age assistance. Payments for aid to dependent children amounted to $3,980.35 with assistance given to 362 children. Seven needy blind cases received $184.07. Payments for twenty-two children receiving foster home care totaled $375.29. A total of 120 cases received $2,819.26 under general public assistance.

Surgical Dressings Completed
Local Red Cross workers who have been meeting at regular intervals each week to make surgical dressings to be used in helping to save the lives of those in the armed services, have completed 64,200 dressings this summer, according to Mrs. Willard Elliott, supervisor. These dressings are now packed and ready to ship. Included in the shipment are 30,000 2 by 2 sponges; 27,000 4 by 4 sponges, and 7,200 4 by 8 sponges.

Work continues at the afternoon and evening classes, and Mrs. Elliott has expressed the hope that additional volunteers will attend these meetings and help in filling the large quota assigned the local organization.

New Voters Register
Although no official figures on the newly registered voters are available, a check with local registration officers would seem to indicate that there were not more than 250 names added to the registration lists of the county in the two-weeks' period.

At the various polling places in Oakland there were not more than five or six on each of two Tuesdays, and the affiliation seemed to be about even with the Republicans having a slight edge. New figures will be available sometime after revision day, next Tuesday, and prior to the general election in November. The figures prior to the election in 1942 gave a total of 9,266 voters, 5,935 Republicans, 3,296 Democrats and 35 others.

Friends Go to Ohio
Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Friend and their four daughters have left the Pleasant Valley community and have gone to Pomeroy, Ohio, where they will establish their future home. Mr. Friend will be associated with, and be a member of the firm of Atkins Chicks, Inc.

Mr. and Mrs. Friend and family were given a farewell party prior to their departure when approximately 125 neighbors and friends called at their home on a surprise visit.

Friend has been farming in the Pleasant Valley section since 1927 where he operated a dairy and chicken business. He is a graduate of Oakland high school and a former county commissioner. He is one of the supervisors of the Soil Conservation committee, a member of the county Triple-A committee, and one of the directors of the Garrett County National Farm Loan Association. He is also a member of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions Club and of the Knights of Pythias Lodge in Oakland.

By RUDOLPH NICKEL
FROSTBURG, Oct. 13 — The response last evening to the offering of evening extension classes at the State Teachers college, Frostburg, assured the opening of courses in "Recent American History" and "Geography of Asia" for the fall. The course in "Recent American History" will have its first session at the college Tuesday, October 17, at 7:30 p. m.

The course will deal with the institutional changes and the nation's part in evolving world relationships since World War I. Changes in domestic life and foreign relations will be studied. The course should appeal to those interested in certificate renewal and to others interested in the subject.

Thursday, October 19, at 7:30 p. m., the class "Geography of Asia" will meet. Both of the courses being offered at this time are new at the college and will not duplicate courses previously offered.

To Hold Homecoming
The Eckhart Methodist church will hold a service Sunday, October 15, at 3 p. m., as a homecoming for members of the church and former members of the congregation. A similar service, held a year ago, attracted the attendance of a large number of former residents, and it is the hope of the Rev. John Wilson, pastor, that a like interest may be taken this year.

Mrs. Herbert Griffith, West Main street, former member, will be one of the speakers.

The vesper service at 7:30 p. m., will be in charge of the Rev. O. B. Langrall, district superintendent. It will be followed by the quarterly conference.

Club To Meet
The Ladies' Social club of the Fraternal Order of Eagles will meet Monday night in the Eagles lodge rooms. A social hour will follow the business meeting, with the Mesdames Edith Denneson and Juanita Blendley in charge.

At the September meeting of the club the following officers were elected for the year: Mrs. Edna Engle, president; Mrs. LaRue Broderick, vice president; Mrs. Margaret Knight, secretary, and Mrs. Anna James, treasurer.

Delegates Elected
Miss Helen Y. Hough, librarian at the State Teachers college, Frostburg, has been elected a delegate to representative assembly of the State Teachers association meeting in Baltimore, October 20 to 21. Miss Hough will also attend the Maryland Library association meeting Saturday, October 21, in Baltimore.

Guild Meets
Mrs. J. E. Cope entertained the Junior Guild of St. John's Episcopal church Wednesday evening with a supper, following the regular monthly business meeting at her home, 1214 Main street. Seventeen members attended.

Miss Eleanor Drury gave anecdotes from Southern folklore which she had collected while serving as a superintendent of schools in Southern Maryland.

At the business meeting Mrs. Suter was elected recording secretary to succeed Mrs. Alex Sloan, who resigned because of illness. The Rev. Lewis B. Browne will entertain the guild in November.

Frostburg Briefs
Men's Night will be observed Monday evening, October 16, 7:30 p. m. at First Methodist church with musical program and social hour. There will be group singing and selections by the men's chorus of the church. The Rev. Watson E. Holley, pastor, will deliver an address.

Parade Auxiliary No. 24 American Legion, Frostburg, elected officers at the meeting Monday in the new legion home; after which a shower for the home was held.

Mrs. Mary McLane was elected president for the coming year; other officers are Mrs. Anna Durst, first vice president; Mrs. Alice Yenawright, second vice president; Mrs. Pearl Eberly, secretary; Mrs. Sara Davis, treasurer; Mrs. Genevieve Goldsworthy, historian; Mrs. Margaret Higgins, chaplain; Mrs. Alma Cole, sergeant at arms; and Mrs. Ruth Snyder and Mrs. Mary Smith, color bearers.

The executive committee includes Miss Alberta Mayer, Mrs. Durst and Mrs. Madeline Lee. The kitchen committee consists of Mrs. Cornelia Lancaster, Mrs. Amy Knepp, Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis, Mrs. Idella Stevens and Mrs. Freda Spiker. Following the meeting a kitchen show was held to procure contributions for the new home.

Mrs. Eberly and Mrs. McLane will attend the meeting of the officers of the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of Maryland, October 20 at the War Memorial building, Baltimore, at which time they will be installed in office.

Local installation will be held at the regular meeting, November 13, in the post rooms, with Mrs. Pearl Eberly, recently elected Mountain district vice president, in charge. Committees for the coming year will also be appointed at this meeting.

Mrs. and Mrs. Harold Conrad, Norfolk, Va., announce the birth of a son Tuesday, October 10, in Norfolk. Mrs. Conrad is the former Mrs. Dorothy Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cambria Williams, 1000 West Main street, this city. Lt. Conrad is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conrad, also of Bowery street.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kerr, 34 Broadway, announce the birth of a son in Miners hospital, Mrs. Kerr the former Miss Judith Steiner. A benefit dance will be given tonight at 8:30 o'clock in St. Michael's hall, Eckhart, by the Eckhart Water Company.

Sgt. George Reid Held Prisoner By the Germans

Son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. K. Reid Shot Down over Holland in February

By MYRTLE PARK
PETERSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 13 — Mr. and Mrs. J. M. K. Reid have received a letter from their son, T-Sgt. George A. Reid, 22, who is a prisoner of war of the German government. Sgt. Reid was a radio operator and gunner on Flying Fortress of the Eighth United States Air Force operating out of England, and was shot down over Holland in February, 1944.

He states that they are well treated, and between the rations furnished by the German government and a package of food furnished each prisoner every week by the Red Cross, they have enough to eat. They spend their time reading and attending classes. They have been building a theater and hope to get films from the United States. Representatives from the Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. in Sweden and Switzerland visit the camps regularly and furnish books and athletic equipment.

Reid formerly worked for the Fairchild Aircraft Corporation, Hagerstown, Md., where he enlisted in the United States Air Force in September, 1942. He has a brother, Sgt. John Keller Reid with the European Civil Affairs division in France.

By LUKE McDOWELL

Mrs. B. H. Ellifritz, vice president of the second district, P-T-A, challenged American mothers and teachers with the thought, "If our fighting men save America for our children, what will it avail if we, as parents and teachers, fail to save our children for America?"

The Rev. A. R. Showalter presented as his theme, "What kind of Discipline For Now?" He said that disciplining our children now to live in a normal world tomorrow, with tolerance and responsibility toward our neighbors, is our only solution to a lasting peace.

Issues with Peacetime Prospects Have Good Day in the Stock Market

NEW YORK, Oct. 13 (AP)—Buyers turned from the holiday with more or less conservative leanings and there was enough profit cashing to stall assorted pivots. The inclination to wait more important war news and election developments at home tended to accentuate selectivity. On the upside were Chicago & North Western common and preferred, Colorado & Southern common and first preferred, Kennecott, U. S. Steel, Chrysler and Allied Chemical. Losers included N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Woolworth, U. S. Rubber, Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse, General Electric and Johns-Manville.

A slow advance in rails and industrials kept the bond market pointing generally higher today, although a number of reorganization carriers and others acted indifferent throughout.

U. S. governments were about a standoff.

Department Officer Will Address Vets

Robert Cramer, Maryland department junior vice commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will make the principal address at the annual membership banquet of Henry Hart Post, No. 1411, VFW, to be held at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday at the VFW home. Cramer is a Baltimore mail carrier.

Thomas K. Whalley, aide-de-camp to the national commander in chief, department judge advocate and local post adjutant, will preside at the banquet as toastmaster. He said last night that a blanket invitation was issued to all department officers on October 4, but added that Joseph K. Stetka, Baltimore, Maryland department commander, will be unable to attend the local meeting because of a previous engagement in Annapolis.

The local post with a current membership of 750 is the largest in the state, an honor it has held for the past three years, and Whalley said the organization aims to retain the honor in 1945.

Membership goal for 1945 is 1,000 members and Whalley pointed out that he is confident the goal will be reached, if not exceeded.

A turkey banquet will be served promptly at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday, according to Whalley, with Cramer's address and department and post reports to follow.

Allies Raid Jap Post in China

By CHARLES A. GRUMWICH
SOUTHEAST ASIA COMMAND HEADQUARTERS, KANDY, Ceylon, Oct. 13. (AP)—Allied forces have raided a Japanese post twenty-two miles south of the enemy's base at Tiddim in Northwestern Burma and have beaten off an artillery-supported Japanese attack east of Tiddim. Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's headquarters announced today.

The raid led by Tiddim was conducted "successfully" and casualties were inflicted on the enemy, the daily communiqué said, while east of Tiddim the Japanese suffered "heavy" casualties. In addition two enemy strongpoints were cleared out north of Tiddim by ground forces who advanced with air support, and the air forces blasted Japanese positions at Tiddim itself.

West African troops pushed beyond Mowdok in the Sangu valley region of Southeastern India near the Burmese border, but contact was lost with Japanese troops who had penetrated India near the Goppe pass.

Membership goal for 1945 is 1,000 members and Whalley pointed out that he is confident the goal will be reached, if not exceeded.

Council Opposes Plan To Change Intentions Act

BALTIMORE, Oct. 13. (AP)—The Legislative Council voted today to oppose a proposed recommendation to the General Assembly that the declarations of intentions act be repealed.

It approved, however, a series of changes in the state's election statutes recommended by the commission to revise Maryland's election laws.

At the closing session of the two-day council meeting in Baltimore, it was disclosed that although a majority of the members had favored repeal of the declarations of intentions measure, the commission had not removed it from the bill it submitted to effect a recodification of the election law.

The council members voted the proposal out when Delegate Milton Dick (R-Allegany) moved to strike the provision from the commission's new bill.

The changes proposed by the commission appointed by the governor and approved by the council included:

An increase in the powers of boards of supervisors of elections to allow them to fix the compensation of judges and clerks of elections and to prescribe the number and duties of such employees.

The establishment of a registration system throughout the state to eliminate the necessity of re-registrations from time to time and providing for systematic erasure of the names of persons who have died, moved away or not exercised their franchise for five years.

Theater Doors May Close When V-Day News Is Received

BALTIMORE, Oct. 13. (AP)—Approximately sixty-five motion picture theaters in this area favor stopping the sale of tickets should the announcement of V-day come while a movie is in progress, and refraining from telling those already in the theater.

In response to a questionnaire sent out by the Motion Picture Theater Owners of Maryland, Inc., the theater owners of the neighborhood voted overwhelmingly in favor of the idea.

A measure recommending that all the theaters of the state remain closed on V-day should the news arrive before they begin operating, was passed recently at an open meeting of the association.

Owners said they fear destructive celebration in the theaters if the news were announced during a performance.

Many Men Needed For the Ministry, Lutheran Report Says

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 13. (AP)—Church activities have been deeply shaken by the war and biggest need of the church is men for the ministry, the Board of American Missions reported to the convention of the United Lutheran Church in America here today.

Dr. Zeigler, Corbe, New York City, general secretary of the board, said that "if all chaplains now in service were to return to civilian life tomorrow and all the seminaries seniors were to be ordained at once, there would not be enough to shepherd vacant parishes."

A resolution proposed by Dr. Arnold F. Keller, Utica, N. Y., pledging church support in the preservation of Jewish liberties throughout the nation was approved after the board pointed to the need for curbs on anti-semitism.

Mrs. E. W. Adams Named Beneficiary, Executrix

Mrs. Elizabeth W. Adams, 512 Rose Hill avenue, was named sole beneficiary and executrix of the will of her stepdaughter, Miss Marion Rubleam Adams, who died October 1.

The will was admitted to probate at yesterday's session of the Orphan's Court. The will, witnessed by William M. Somerville and Ruth L. Dicken, was drawn September 18, 1941.

The will of Oscar C. Huber, Frostburg, who died September 6, was admitted to probate at the session. The estate was left to Joseph and William Huber, his sons. William Huber was named executor. The will was drawn August 9, 1944, and witnessed by Edward J. Ryan and Emma E. Foreman.

Local Girls Will Model WAC Uniforms

Ten local girls will model WAC uniforms at a WAC rally and fashion show scheduled for next Wednesday at the Maryland theater, according to Lt. Frances D. Robinson, WAC public relations officer for the Western Maryland district.

The girls are the Misses Carola Allen, Frances Allen, Doris Lee Kraze, Norma Lee Linn, Agnes Patterson, Barbara Kitzmiller, Patricia Kime, Margaret Schwartz, Mrs. Leona Cusimsky and Mrs. Rosemary Lease.

"To The Ladies," a film showing the work of WAC medical technicians, will be included in the program, and the Allegany high school band will furnish music for the affair.

Parker and Clark Will Receive Hearing

Two of the three men who are being held under $1,000 bond for action of the October grand jury on a charge of the theft of twenty-three cases of gin and whiskey valued at $1,000, were arrested last evening in South Cumberland on a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct.

They are Richard Clark, 121 West Oldtown road, and Russell Parker, 925 Grand avenue. They were arrested last evening at 11:05 o'clock by Officer R. M. Nuse after, police said, they created a disturbance in a Virginia avenue restaurant.

Youth Is Held

A 16-year-old Thomas street youth is being held in the city jail on a charge of drunkenness after police said, he or his companion kicked over several garbage containers on Park street late last evening.

Assistant Police Chief John J. Treibner warned that the practice will be stopped and added that plain clothes policemen have been told to be on the alert for such offenders. Many complaints are received each Friday evening from the neighborhood, Treibner added.

Hollywood Girl Raped and Slain

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 13. (AP)—Attractive Georgette Bauerdorf, 20, whose nearly nude body was found in the overflowing bathtub of her sister's apartment, was raped, officers said today and then strangled by someone who forced a folded wash cloth down her throat.

Lt. Garner Brown of the sheriff's office said "our preliminary examination shows she was attacked and then killed."

An autopsy has been ordered.

Miss Bauerdorf, daughter of George Bauerdorf, oil and mining executive, was found dead yesterday. She had been living alone in the apartment. Her father and his wife were in New York on a visit. Miss Bauerdorf's mother is dead.

A friend, Miss June Ziegler, 20, told officers she and Georgette were hostesses at the Hollywood canteen Wednesday night and that Georgette was forced, against her wishes, to juggle with a soldier.

Officers began a search for the soldier.

Girl Not Robbed

The girl's apartment was in disarray. Her clothing was scattered, as well as many of her personal effects. But there apparently was no theft. Brown said, because jewelry was found on a dresser. There were blood stains on the floors in the living room and bathroom and blood on the girl's clothing.

Georgette's car was taken from the garage in the apartment building; it was found today on a street in the negro residential district. Brown said "thousands of fingerprints" in the apartment are being compared with those taken from the auto.

Bauerdorf earlier had told officers by phone from New York, where he is vacationing, that he believed his daughter's death was accidental. He said she suffered severe cramps and heart pains and that she probably fainted and fell into the tub.

But Brown said he was convinced Miss Bauerdorf was strangled to death "after she was attacked."

Roadhouse Operator Named in Five Grand Jury Indictments

Five indictments returned by the October term grand jury were entered on the open docket in circuit court yesterday against Mrs. Day D. Corbett, operator of a roadhouse on Braddock road.

Three of the indictments accuse her of maintaining slot machines on the premises. Another charges sale of alcoholic beverages to minors and still another accuses her of permitting minors to loiter in a place where alcoholic beverages are sold.

Indictments also were returned by the grand jury against Edward E. Mathias and John F. Marino. They are accused of stealing $268 from the property of Carleton D. Shore on May 15 on the indictments charging with larceny and receiving stolen goods.

Six men indicted by the grand jury and held in the county jail will be arraigned this morning.

Mills Are Placed Back On County Taxing Lists

Tools and machinery of the General Textile Mills, Inc., which has plants in Cumberland and Lonaconing, were placed back on the county tax books by the Board of County Commissioners yesterday. The recommendation of a made by Somerville Nicholson, supervisor of assessments.

The firm was granted tax exemption in 1935, on condition that a specified number of persons be employed a major part of each year. The assessment on the local plant, which is not operating, is $20,858.13; on the Lonaconing plant, $13,128.52.

The board accepted an invitation, extended by Harry J. Barron, president of the Allegany County Farm bureau, to attend the bureau's annual banquet, November 1, at the Queen City hotel.

Navy Wants Pictures Of Jap Mainland

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13. (AP)—An urgent call for photographs of the Japanese mainland and of islands of Japan's war empire, to be used in invasion plans, was issued today by the navy.

Analysis of ground level photographs, a statement from Twelfth naval district headquarters said, "adds immeasurably to data gleaned from aerial photographs made under operational or combat conditions."

With the Ryukyu and Luzon revisions, the four days of carrier strikes there and on Formosa resulted in the sinking or damaging of 140 Japanese ships and more than eighty-seven small craft and destruction of from 525 to 530 airplanes.

American plane losses in those three actions totaled fifty-three. No American ship losses were listed. The communiqué added that organized resistance ceased in the Southern Palau on Thursday, with Peleliu the last of the small cluster of islands east of the Philippines to be conquered.

Small resistance pockets remain on both Peleliu and Anguar.

lead us into it. Thus, in the end, the shame of Pearl Harbor was Mr. Roosevelt's shame."

Mrs. Luce contended "Mr. Roosevelt, far from being a great statesman, is in the field of statecraft not only untrustworthy but also incompetent." She added:

"In the precise words of President Roosevelt, in 1937, I quote: 'to keep the peace is the fundamental policy of the United States.' x x x did Mr. Roosevelt prevent war? In other words, did Mr. Roosevelt's fundamental policy succeed or fail?"

She said "New Dealers" often presented "extenuating circumstances," among them that the United States was the victim of an unprovoked attack by Japan. She continued:

Blame for Pearl Harbor
"In June of this year, Oliver Lyttelton, British minister of production, declared in London, I quote: 'Japan was provoked into attacking America at Pearl harbor. It is a travesty on history to say that America was forced into the war. It is incorrect to say that America was ever truly neutral x x x'."

"No, the theory of the unprovoked attack will not wash x x x. Why did he (President Roosevelt) never tell us that if Japan conquered China, and Germany overpowered Great Britain, they would then completely dominate our oceans, and that this one fact alone made the war our war?"

Kept Facts Secret
"He did not tell us. First, because he did not have the courage to admit that his seven year policy of isolation but appeasement had been a failure, which had contributed to bringing the war about, and that the only way left to redeem this failure of his statesmanship was for the nation to go to war. Secondly he did not tell us the truth because he wanted a third term."

The representative said that during his seven peacetime years, the president did not seek to achieve greater collective security in the world, and "not a single hint x x x did he give to the people x x x of the many secret and specific warnings he was receiving, and Mr. Hull was receiving, from his ambassadors and his military observers abroad of the growing danger to America from Japan."

"Arms for the nation were the president's for the asking," she asserted, "he did not ask."

"Should the vote of the United States representative on the United Nations Security Council commit an agreed-upon quota of our military forces to action ordered by the council to maintain peace, without requiring further Congressional approval?"

President Roosevelt told his news conference today Senator Ball was a little bit ahead of time in asking the question.

Gigantic Battle On West Front Expected Soon

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Vivid eye-witness accounts by press observers advancing into shattered and doomed Aachen with American doughboys kept reader attention still focused there, but there were stirrings on the west front that suggested the battle for the Dutch gateways to Northern Germany was about to erupt into a full scale action.

Normal weather portents indicate General Eisenhower has possibly another month or so of reasonably good conditions on the ground and in the air in which to bring his full power to bear on that critical and vulnerable sea flank of the Nazi Siegfried line.

Time Helps British

The British commander, Field Marshal Montgomery, has had time to build up striking power and gain needed elbow room. There is every indication that the core of his command, the British Second army, is busy from south of Arnhem to the overlook sector on the Mass preparing its jump-offs.

And not until the American First army attack that doomed Aachen is linked with a simultaneous drive by British comrades to the North can the possibility of a pre-winter Allied break-through that could restore mobility to the assault be written off.

Hitler Using Crack Troops

American identification of crack Nazi armored and other units pulled out of the Arnhem-Emmerich zone to be thrown into reckless and futile efforts to relieve Aachen or beat back First army encirclement prongs to seal off the gap invites a British drive in the north. Montgomery's troops would have that much less to contend with if prepared to go in at once. There is every evidence that German armor and infantry sent in against the Americans to the south not only failed to make headway but were terribly mauled by gunfire and bombs.

There is another factor also promoting expectation of a wide-fronted Allied general offensive soon in the Dutch-German frontier theater. Russian advances on the Balkan flank in the east are posing a threat not only to wavering and uncertain Hungary, but to Austria. Enemy flight from the now critically dangerous Transylvanian pocket east of Budapest is now clearly indicated.

Laws Governing School Buses To Be Studied

Baltimore, Oct. 13 (AP)—A sub-committee of the Maryland Legislative Council was authorized today to make a thorough study of all laws governing the safety of school buses and to recommend new legislation creating an iron-clad inspection system.

The committee, headed by Delegate Milton Tolle (D-Balto), chairman of the House Judiciary committee, was named yesterday by Senator James J. Lindsay (D-Balto) chairman of the council at the opening session of its two-day October meeting.

Senator Lindsay, who asked for a report and recommendations by the end of the month, said the group would not only study motor laws on school buses, but also would inquire whether Public Service Commission regulations were applicable and if so, whether they were being enforced.

Other committee members are Senator Robert B. Kimble (R-Allegany); Delegates John Liber (D-Fifth, Balto); William Strohmeier (D-Anne Arundel) and J. B. Monroe (R-Charles).

Tolle said the group would meet Oct. 18 at the office of the Commission of Motor Vehicles to hear suggestions by Stuart Purcell, chairman of the Public Service Commission; Col. Beverly Ober, superintendent of State Police; Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., state superintendent of education, and W. Lee Elgin, commissioner of motor vehicles.

Senator Kimble, at yesterday's meeting, declared that he felt the question of school bus safety regulations should be a state responsibility and not left in the hands of county authorities.

Delegate Milton Dick (R-Allegany), minority leader in the House, reported that in "Allegany county they're using public carriers—old dilapidated buses which are not painted the proper color."

Senator Joseph R. Byrnes (D-Fifth Balto) proposed putting inspection of buses in the hands of the police.

Delegate Tolle said it was probable that a complete new statute with respect to school buses would be prepared for submission to the legislature next January.

Posture Notes Foot Loose Freedom

Written Exclusively for AP
Newsfeatures by
EMILY R. ANDREWS
Professor of Physical Education
Western Reserve University

Here are some suggestions for those who have "screaming" feet after a hard day's work.

1. Plunge feet into hot and cold water alternately for better circulation.

2. Massage with hands or rub briskly with towel; often feet need exercise rather than rest after being encased in shoes all day long.

3. Curl your toes as though gripping a pencil; try picking up marbles with your toes. This will strengthen the natural arch.

4. Wiggle your toes individually and collectively. Circle the ankles with toes pointed for ankle and foot freedom.

5. When on the beach in the summer, exercise your feet by digging holes and building hills in the sand.

6. For swollen, tired, and aching feet, elevate them while sitting.

7. Be sure your shoes and stockings are long enough to avoid cramping toes.

8. To avoid pressure on the big toe joint and to keep the toe straight, cut toe nails often.

9. After your bath, place your towel on the floor and pull it toward you with your toes.

10. For proper balance, walk and stand with feet pointing straight ahead, weight on outside border and on big toe.

These are a few hints for simple foot difficulties. Consult a doctor for any abnormal or prolonged condition.

Textile Union To Give Tobacco to Servicemen

Since cigarettes are no longer available. Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, is planning to send at least 300 free packages of smoking tobacco to members of the army, navy and marine corps with the Christmas greetings of the union, William E. Meagher, chairman of the local's Special Activities committee, announced yesterday.

The union, through funds raised at dances and other activities, has donated some 10,000 packs of cigarettes to members of the armed services, Meagher said.

Port Ashby substitutes: Frase F. Davis, Jr., and John L. Cavanagh. The Port Ashby team was defeated by the Lufkin team 10-0. Officials: Cavanaugh, Spangler and Angelita.

— o —

The Lasalle High Explorers, defeated in two of their three games to date, should enter the 500 column tonight when they meet Fort Ashby (W. Va.) high griders at 8 o'clock at the Fort Hill stadium.

The Explorers opened by bowing 9-6 to the Moorefield (W. Va.) High Yellow Jackets but defeated Ridgefield 14-6 in their next game. Last week, they were overwhelmed by Fort Hill, 54-6.

son due to an ankle injury.

The Port Ashby team also had Donald Linn, a back, had been nursing a pair of elbow injuries that they aren't serious enough to keep him out of the lineups. Cliff Kern, regular fullback, has a couple of fractured ribs and probably won't play.

"I find the boys deeply interested in the game and have more coming out with every practice," Simmonell declared, "but we don't have the necessary equipment to keep them out."

Sentinals at Martinsburg

Four changes in the Explorers starting lineup are planned by Coaches Phil Minke and Ronald Palmer. Yates Borden, left guard, has a dislocated finger and Ritter will probably get the assignment. Jim Dorsey, 145-pound freshman, will be at right tackle with Don Nehring who is nursing some injured ribs, moving to left tackle. Flynn is scheduled to replace Bill Seefeld at right end.

Port Ashby, represented on the gridiron for the first time this season, lost to Ridgeley 34-0 and Keyser 28-6.

Improvement Seen

The Port Ashby squad has been

Cliff Kern, Calvin Davis or Melvin Wolford will start at fullback. Wolford, a sophomore, has shown plenty of drive and may get the assignment. Simoncelli is also undecided whether to start David Malone or Bill Frase at center.

Brewers and Reds To Clash Tomorrow

The Cumberland Queen City Brewers, who defeated the Centerville Reds in the series for the Ben-Hur Baseball League championship, will meet the Pennsylvanians in a post-season game tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at Centerville, Pa.

Melvin Nee, former Centerville hurler whose career in the minor leagues was interrupted when he entered the navy, will work on the mound for the Reds. He is home on leave after seeing combat service.
 Proceeds of the game will be applied to the fund to purchase new Centerville uniforms next season.

Robinson Favored
 To Win

To Defeat Jannazzo

BOSTON, Oct. 13 (P) —Harlem's Sugar Ray Robinson, recently released from the United States Army, will resume his boxing career against

Since he bested Jannazzo twice before being inducted into the service, the Harlem welterweight has been made a 2-1 favorite to do it again. Two years ago Robinson out-pointed the Brooklynite in Philadelphia and gained a technical knockout verdict over him in Cleveland.

For the past year or so, however, Robinson has been out of action and Jannazzo has been average two bouts a month.

Two Local Youths Are Brought Back For Prosecution

McClellan Makes Statement; He and Three Others Are Indicted

Two Cumberland youths, William E. McClellan, 19, and Jesse James Valentine, about 19, arrested in Akron, Ohio, September 25 following a $100 robbery and subsequently charged with violating the National Automobile Theft act by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, have been returned to Allegheny county for trial at the current term of court. State's Attorney Morgan C. Harris announced last night.

The youths were held by the FBI in connection with the reported kidnapping of Newton Cook, Glenwood, Pa., but no charges were entered against them. In a statement made yesterday to Harris, McClellan admitted the state attorney said that he, Valentine and George Thomas Stewart, 20, Cumberland, bound and forced Cook from his car along the Hazen road but asserted that this occurred in Maryland and not across the state line in Pennsylvania.

Both McClellan and Valentine were indicted by the October term grand jury on two charges of burglary, one charge of unauthorized use of an automobile and one charge of breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony. McClellan was indicted on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon and Valentine on a charge of larceny and receiving stolen goods.

Stewart, Christian Charged

Stewart and James Arthur Christian, 19, of Lake Grove, Pa., who are accused of taking part in some of the activities of McClellan and Valentine, also were indicted by the grand jury. Stewart on one charge of larceny and receiving stolen goods and Christian on one charge of burglary, one of unauthorized use of an automobile and another of breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony.

In his statement to Harris, McClellan said he and Valentine met Christian in a local pool room about 6 p. m. on September 22 and that the three of them went to George street where they stole an automobile and "started to drive around town." He said he had a 32-caliber automatic revolver in his pocket and a sawed-off shotgun. He bought from a Bedford road resident who lived about two miles from Valentine. The shotgun, he added, was wrapped in newspaper and placed under the seat.

Breaks Out Window

Eventually, McClellan admitted, the trio drove to Tom the Tailors plant on Bedford street. "I took a brick and broke out a side window in Tom's place," he stated. "I went in through the window and opened the door and let Christian in the door. Valentine stayed outside as a lookout."

After stealing several articles from the plant, McClellan reported that the trio drove to the tavern of Fisher and Robinson on Baltimore avenue. "I took the butt of the automatic and broke out a panel out of the door and reached in and opened the door. Valentine stood at the door and Christian stayed in the car," McClellan said, while he carried out eight bottles of whiskey and liquor and the cash register.

Christian drove out Shady's lane where "we took the money from the cash register and threw the cash register in the bushes," McClellan stated, adding that there was about $40 in silver in the cash register. He said Christian took the money.

Says He Stole Pistol

When asked by the state attorney where he obtained the pistol, McClellan answered that he stole it from an automobile parked on Washington street on September 22. He said he was just "rifling the car for what I could get and didn't know there was a pistol in it."

On Saturday night, McClellan said Valentine met Stewart at the same pool room where they had met Christian the night before and that the three of them subsequently "walked around town looking for a car to steal." They eventually went to an oil company office behind the Algonquin hotel and McClellan said he broke into the building but found only a raincoat and some beanie hat, adding that he threw the latter away and gave the coat to Stewart.

Later they met Cook and after he drove them around awhile, McClellan said, "I was sitting in the back seat and Valentine was in the front. Cook's back and said, 'We will take over.' I then ordered Cook out of the car and I robbed him of $8 and some change."

McClellan said he "tied up" Cook with some tape and his belt and that he and Stewart carried the man to the side of the road and threw him in some bushes.

Drove to Akron

After driving to Valentine's home, the trio drove to Pittsburgh and then to Akron where Stewart left them at a hotel there. McClellan said, adding that he and Valentine did not see Stewart again. McClellan and Valentine were picked up by Akron police the following day, McClellan said.

He added that he came to Cumberland about August 28 from the Federal reformatory at Chillicothe, Ohio, where he served two years for violation of the Dyer act, a federal law pertaining to the transportation of a stolen car across a state line. He said he also served two years in the Pruntytown Reform school near Grafton, W. Va.

Teachers Meet Today

A special meeting of the Allegheny County Teachers' Association will be held in the auditorium of Allegheny high school at 10 a. m. today. Victor D. Heisey, president, and Harold C. Wiekard, a member of the state advisory council, will report on the meetings held last Saturday in Baltimore.

Committee reports will be received and officers will be elected at today's meeting, Heisey said.

Work in India Is Described By Col. Noble

Says Increasing Number of Indians Are Becoming Lawyers, Doctors

Describing India as a land of many sects and languages, Col. William A. Noble, missionary, senior medical officer and chief surgeon of the Salvation Army, discussed his work there in an address yesterday at 7:45 p. m. in the Salvation Army Citadel, 115 North Mechanic street.

Col. Noble, who has done medical and missionary work in India since 1919, said that in one year there were 190,000 cases of leprosy in the medical department at Nagercoil, Travancore, South India. The department comprises Catherine Booth hospital, thirteen branch hospitals and two large leper hospitals. The surgeon who returned with his wife to this country last May on a year's furlough, their first in nine years, stated that increasing numbers of Indians were becoming doctors and lawyers, contrary to popular belief. He said that the British government of India exerted a protective influence, not a dictatorial one.

Col. and Mrs. Noble were accompanied here by Maj. and Mrs. Kenneth Howarth, Baltimore, divisional secretaries of the Salvation Army. They were guests of the Salvation Army advisory board at a luncheon at the Central YMCA yesterday at 12:15 p. m. Commissioned a captain in the Salvation Army in 1919, Col. Noble went to Bombay, India, where he served as senior medical officer at the Thomas Emery hospital from 1920 until 1921. He was appointed to the medical department at Nagercoil in 1921 and became senior medical officer and chief surgeon in 1922.

Noble plans to do research work at Johns Hopkins university before going to Carver, La., where he will study methods of preventing leprosy at the leper colony there.

Two West Virginia youths were sworn into the army air forces at the local recruiting station yesterday at 6 p. m., by Lt. William H. James, president of the army air forces examining board in Baltimore, who has been in Cumberland this week to assist Tech. Sgt. Clarence Blehn, local army recruiter.

The boys are Luther R. Stemple, Ridgeley, W. Va., and David K. Holy, Keyser, W. Va. Sgt. Blehn announced yesterday that Lt. James will administer the oath of enlistment to Dennis S. Wilson, RFD 3, Cumberland, and John B. Jenkins, Frostburg, before he returns to Baltimore this afternoon.

Christmas packages addressed to servicemen overseas may be mailed until Monday, October 16, postal officials said. The mailing period was extended for an additional day because the original deadline, October 15, falls on a Sunday. Christmas parcels addressed to servicemen whose addresses change around October 15 may be mailed up until December 1.

East Sisterhood, No. 111, Dames of Malta, will hold a memorial service this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the late Mrs. Clara Murray, 210 Main street, Ridgeley, W. Va.

Lindbergh Cook was elected president of the Allegheny high school sophomore class for the 1944-45 term. Jack Carney was elected vice president; Richard Clower, secretary; Bruce Anderson, treasurer.

Miss June Alday was elected president of the Allegheny high school French club at the first meeting held in the Cumberland Public Library. Miss Edith Ann Doolittle was elected vice president and Miss Delores Turk secretary. The club drew up a constitution and discussed plans for the year.

Two accident youths took the mental examination Tuesday, according to Sgt. Blehn. They are Walter O. Herring and Albert W. Bowser.

The Cumberland Contracting company will begin blacktopping the Bedford road from the end of the brick paving to Nave's Crossroads Monday. Company officials said that the work will take two weeks and that about twenty men will be employed. The contract was let by the Maryland Roads commission and calls for the payment of $16,800.

The board of directors of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce will meet Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in room 514 Liberty Trust building.

John Twigg and Betty Hinzman won first and second prizes in the "Food for Victory" contest conducted last week by Mrs. Ellen McKenzie. Allegheny high science teacher.

First prizes to the Potomac Edison system as the winner of two fleet safety contests were awarded last week by the National Safety Council at its annual Safety Congress, held in Chicago last week. Potomac Edison won the passenger car and the truck contests competing against forty-nine other public utility company's fleets.

Movies of the Notre Dame-Army and Notre Dame-Iowa football games last season will be shown Sunday night at 8 o'clock under the auspices of Cumberland Council No. 586, Knights of Columbus at the K. of C. home. The films were secured by Jim Brown, manager of the Casey football team and ardent Notre Dame fan.

Mary A. Collins obtained a permit Thursday from the city engineer for remodeling the interior of the dwelling at 233 Cumberland street by changing one partition. The cost is estimated at $200.

Jack Williams has been elected treasurer of the senior class at Allegheny high school succeeding Jack Stittley, who has gone to Mercersburg Academy. Mary Ann Heinrich has been named chairman of all senior activities.

A memorial mass will be held in St. Ambrose Catholic church, Cresskill, Monday morning at 9 o'clock for Pfc. James P. Cuff, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Cuff, Cresskill, who was killed in action in France, Sept. 16.

Greta Hersch, a junior, has been named business manager of the Akolli Mirror, Allegheny high school paper.

First Lt. Richard Penfield, Jr., son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Richard Penfield. The family and husband of Mrs. Ruth Michael Penfield, 500 Washington Street, recently wrote home telling of a colorful sacrificial ceremony, staged by Gurkha natives, which he witnessed while taking a rest at Darjeeling, India.

WOUNDED AND MISSING—Mr. and Mrs. Boyd C. Grove, RFD 4, Mexico Farms, have been notified that their son, Pfc. Claude D. Grove, (left) was wounded in Germany September 26 and that a second son, Pvt. John M. Grove, (right) has been missing in Holland since September 19. Pfc. Claude D. Grove, who has been overseas since July, entered the army in May, 1941. He was with the Twenty-ninth division for two years before he was transferred to the One Hundred and Seventy-sixth Infantry, Fort Benning, Ga. Pvt. John Grove has been in the army since December, 1942, as a glider infantryman. He trained at Camp Wheeler, Ga., and Fort Bragg, N. C., before being sent overseas in September, 1943. He participated in the Normandy invasion. Both men were employed at the Celanese plant before they entered the service.

Two West Virginia Youths Are Sworn Into Air Forces

The mayor and council at a special meeting yesterday morning, approved the renting of the city-owned frame building at the airport to the Grandview Construction company. The company, which starts work to improve the field facilities next week, will pay $35 monthly for the building which city guards will continue to use.

The problem of whether the city intends to lay a sewer in a gully, which real estate dealer Michael D. Reinhardt plans to fill on some lots near Kent and Edgewood avenues, was referred to Ralph L. Rizer, city engineer, and Hunter B. Helfrich, commissioner of streets and public property.

City Attorney Charles Z. Heskett reported Reinhardt's plan, and, with Rizer, explained that the sewer pipes, if laid, will connect with another sewer which runs across private property.

The council decided to make no concession concerning a bill adjustment that was asked by Elizabeth Compton Pearre for the construction of a wall on the lower side of Arnett terrace. Heskett explained that, although the wall does not adjoin the Pearre property, it is necessary for the street on which the Pearre property stands. The bill is for $200.

Mayor Thomas S. Post reported that he had completed his investigation of the proposed purchase of the Chevrolet chassis, to be converted into a ladder truck by the fire department, to his satisfaction and that he favored proceeding with the work without delay. The order for the purchase, introduced last Monday by Commissioner of Police and Fire James Orr, was tabled at the time for a week.

The semi-monthly payroll was passed.

Lt. Richard Penfield, Jr., Writes About Gurkha Sacrificial Ceremony

Tells of Witnessing Part of Three-day Celebration at Darjeeling, India

First Lt. Richard Penfield, Jr., son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Richard Penfield. The family and husband of Mrs. Ruth Michael Penfield, 500 Washington Street, recently wrote home telling of a colorful sacrificial ceremony, staged by Gurkha natives, which he witnessed while taking a rest at Darjeeling, India.

"After breakfast the gang of us went to see the sacrificial ceremonies of the three day celebration of the Gurkhas' God," Lt. Penfield wrote. "The celebrating that has been going on yesterday, today and tomorrow, is similar to our Christmas. The British and American officers were all well taken care of, in fact we were drawn the conclusion that it was staged especially for us instead of the several hundred gaily dressed natives who formed a circle around the ceremonial square. They say, in fact it is known, that of all the British Colonial troops, the Gurkhas are their best soldiers. I don't know the reasons for all of the ceremonies, but it went along like this:

See Natives Dance

"Around the pit were a type of melon with sticks in them to look like a cow. They stood about a foot high. For half an hour four Gurkhas walked around sprinkling red dye on these images, also flowers and water. A horn made from a sea shell was blown all the time, along with the ringing of bells and beating of drums. Various natives were dancing during all of this to the music of bagpipes.

"After this four pigeons were released. In a sort of arbor stood a table on which the sacrificial sword lay. A husky Gurkha stood in back. Around the arbor were soldiers, armed with knives. Four goats were led out. The Gurkha came out with the sword, stood in front of the pit and after a few words skyward-quicker than you could have said Jack Robinson, he had been around the pit and had chopped each one of the images to bits. I wish you could have seen him swing that sword. Then one by one the goats were led up and after much ado, each one had its head chopped off, sweetly but neatly, into the pit. The heads were put in the arbor and the bodies dragged around the square.

Impressive Ceremony

"Then a two year old bull was brought in and the four holy men went to work with their dyes, water and incense. The bull was then tied to the post. The Gurkha with his sword stepped forward and swish, in one stroke had the bull's head off. Then all hell broke loose. The natives all started dancing, singing, and singing around the pit. The ceremony was on. The Gurkha with his sword came before each of us, bowed and saluted. We left shortly after while the natives were preparing for a big feast. It was well worth seeing and quite impressive.

Lt. Penfield has been overseas ten months and has completed over fifty missions, as bombardier-navigator on a Mitchell B-25. Previous to his assignment in India, he saw action in the Italian campaign. Needless to say, he is more than anxious to get home to see his eight-month-old daughter for the first time.

Police Boys' Club Members Will Get Memberships in Y

Bible Class Sponsors Program Based on Church Attendance

Arrangements to present full memberships in the YMCA to 100 members of the Police Boys' Club for whom a special program will be provided on a basis of church and Sunday school attendance were announced yesterday by Everett R. Johnson, general secretary of Central YMCA.

Johnson said the gift was made possible through the efforts of a special committee of the Duke Memorial Bible class, headed by Charles U. Wiebel, who is also vice president of the class.

Starts Sunday

Under the plan, which starts this Sunday afternoon, the YMCA will provide a special Sunday afternoon recreation program in the YMCA building for the boys. It will be a program of movies, gymnasium work and swimming between 2 and 5 p. m., Johnson said.

Wiebel said plans for the program were worked out between the Bible class committee and YMCA officers and that the program is being offered to a selected group of boys whose sole responsibility is to furnish evidence that they attended their own church or Sunday school on the morning of the program.

He pointed out that the plan has the endorsement of the directors of the Police Boys club, which is headed by State's Attorney Morgan C. Harris, and added that Sheriff David M. Steele, Harry C. Nixon and Elsworth F. Brewer are actively interested in the venture.

First in Country

The program was arranged, Wiebel said, because "it is the desire of our committee that boys be encouraged to attend church and Sunday school each Sabbath day morning. As far as our committee is concerned, the program is 'this is the first case in the entire country where a plan has been devised solely for the purpose of encouraging boys to become faithful church attendants.'"

Members of the committee have solicited the co-operation of fraternal and civic organizations, according to the announcement, and have met with an enthusiastic response. Wiebel said it is proposed to extend the plan to include a much larger number of boys following a trial period with the group of 100 already selected
